

Minards Diesel Finds A New Home

Highly regarded Yanmar diesel engine and spare parts specialist Minards Diesel has relocated to a new and significantly larger premises to accommodate their ever expanding Yanmar sales and service business.

Making the move up the northern NSW coast from Toronto to Mayfield West, Minards Diesel now has the space to offer customers an even greater range of products for all Yanmar diesel engines, pumps and generators.

Minards Diesel has been serving Yanmar customers around the world since 1981 with engine sales and service, product support and super efficient spare parts delivery. A warehouse facility and efficient inventory tracking has been the key to Minards' success with their new premises offering even greater carrying capacity for more engines, parts and product support requirements.

Yanmar products are utilised across a broad range of industries from marine engine applications to farm diesel generators and water pump solutions. With such a broad market and scope of products and parts, Minards Diesel understands the need to have ready access to the right product and be able to deliver on time and budget.

Minards Diesel is also well known for supplying quality used engines and second hand parts for both current and past Yanmar models. Providing technical support and engine reconditioning are also key strengths of the Minards Diesel business which are a welcome service utilised by many faithful Yanmar diesel owners.
